

The Irish Hills,

WHAT HAPPENED TO THE “TASTE OF THE IRISH HILLS”????

I know the loyal followers of Oh These Irish Hills! are wondering when they will hear about the “Taste of the Irish Hills” event – so I want you to know that this year it will be a different event. Three organizations in the Irish Hills are joining together to put on a fun event. The Brooklyn Moose, the Irish Hills Knights of Columbus, and Oh These Irish Hills! are having a St. Patrick’s Day “Paddle Party”

A Paddle Party is a game of chance so you must be 18 years old to play. The players purchase paddles (paint stirrers with a number), the ball machine mixes the numbered balls and a ball comes to the top; you are a winner when the ball number matches your paddle number then you select a prize from the prize table. The games go on until all the prizes are won.

For additional fun there will be a silent auction with some very nice items and we will also have an occasional 50/50 drawing just to keep the evening lively.

After the prizes are won, there will be music if you want to stay longer.

Refreshments are available at the cash bar and snacks will be provided at no cost. There is no cost for admission. How can you go wrong – come to the:

St. Patrick’s Day “Paddle Party” on March 14, 2009 at the Moose Lodge (behind the Irish Hills Towers) 6:00 – 9:00 P.M.

Bring all the luck of the Irish with you and enjoy a fun evening in the Irish Hills!
